

Invigilator

An invigilator is appointed by the examination board to oversee the proper conduct of a specific examination in accordance with established regulations. Their primary duty is to prevent cheating and misconduct, ensuring all candidates adhere to the exam board's rules for fair and equal conditions nationwide.

Invigilators hold a position of trust and are required to demonstrate integrity and vigilance in carrying out their duties as per the board's instructions. They actively monitor candidates throughout the exam to prevent unauthorized communication or access to materials.

While fostering a supportive atmosphere for candidates, invigilators also enforce stringent measures to maintain exam integrity.

Sai Educare partners with retired government employees who bring their expertise to ensure examinations are conducted effectively. We provide these services to clients by deploying invigilators, flying supervisors, senior center heads, proctors, and other essential personnel to oversee and manage exams with professionalism and precision.
